Subject: Appropriation

Stacey,

You should have received an appropriation request from Judge Medlock's Office for $5,000. That money is not in County General. There was no need to put it in County General then move to Fund 3804. I just receipted it to that fund. I noticed that on their appropriation letter.

Executive Summary - L POD No Cooling

Initial Service Call Technician responded to a no-cooling complaint and found the unit locked out on a high-pressure alarm. Electrical diagnostics confirmed the high-pressure switch was closed and operating pressures were within normal limits. The unit control board (UCB) failed to clear the alarm and exhibited abnormal fault indications despite power cycling. The control board was determined to be defective and was replaced. All wiring connections were verified following installation.

Follow-Up Visit (8/19/26) Technician returned to investigate an intermittent A2L alarm. The unit was found in alarm state and troubleshooting focused on A2L safety circuitry, wiring connections, and pressure switch operation. After resetting the lockout and verifying connections, the alarm cleared and could not be replicated. During testing, the control board was observed resetting unexpectedly. Corroded electrical connections were cleaned and secured, and the unit operated normally during the remainder of the visit.

Final Repair (8/20/26) A subsequent customer complaint indicated the space remained warm. Further diagnostics revealed the condenser fan was intermittently failing to start, causing the unit to trip on high head pressure. The condenser fan motor and capacitor were found to be defective and were replaced.

While restoring power, an electrical arc was observed at the contactor. Investigation revealed two loose and heat-damaged wire terminations. The affected terminals were replaced and wiring was corrected per the unit schematic. One of the damaged conductors supplied power to the control transformer, which explains the intermittent control board resets previously observed.

Resolution The condenser fan motor, capacitor, and damaged wire terminations were replaced, and all electrical connections were repaired and verified. The unit was tested through multiple operating cycles and no further alarms, resets, or cooling issues were observed. The system is currently operating normally.

Motion to approve Justice Morgan, seconded by Justice Stinchcomb. 11 yeas 2 absent. Discussion by Justice Shaffer asked Circuit Clerk Sharon Baker to approach the podium for questions. Justice Shaffer wanted Mrs. Baker to let everyone know what was going on with the ordinance. Mrs. Baker stated that when she originally brought the ordinance with these fees. The original ordinance did not specify that the funds for these fees needed to stay within the Circuit Clerks budget to help make their office better for the public. When it was time to turn the money in they realized there was no fund set up to turn the money into. That's what this ordinance is doing, it is allowing the money to stay in our office. Justice Shaffer asked what those funds could be used for. Mrs. Baker stated it could be used for equipment, if saved long enough it could be used for another employee, office chairs, for anything in our office that has to do with the front counter. Justice Shaffer asked it can only be used for these programs in the ordinance, Mrs. Baker stated yes. Justice Peppas asked about the fees collected. Mrs. Baker stated the fees are set by the state and we can't charge more and we are allowed to collect so much on each charge. Mrs. Baker stated that Crawford County is the first in Arkansas to offer these services. It's a service anyone can come in and get. We have gotten a lot of positive feedback.
